~ From the Director's Desk ~

It's unequivocally riding season!

We've had several great rides in the past month, and more to come. Have you signed up for the mystery ride yet? How about the Four Corners Rally?

And don't forget one of our best events of the year: the Chapter I Picnic! Are you ready for good times, good food, and great friends? It's coming up fast! See the flier later in this newsletter for all the details.

If you're still hungry after the picnic, then why not volunteer to set up our dinner ride for this month? We have tentatively scheduled July 16. All we need is someone to pick a place, make the reservations, and let the rest of us know. Then we show up and eat! How good is that? If you want to make the call, let me know, or talk to any officer at the picnic. Just don't talk with your mouth full, eh? :-)

And now for a sobering note. Many of you have probably heard of the seven fatalities in New Hampshire when a pickup with a trailer hit a group of riders from the Jarheads Motorcycle Club. This group of current and former Marines and supports were on their way to a charity ride and had just gotten on the road for the day, not even half a mile from where they spent the night. This struck close to home for Jackie and I. The accident happened fifteen miles from where we grew up, and only 10 miles from our new NH second home.

To me, the point to take here is that sometimes bad things happen, and there is no way to avoid it. None of the riders was doing anything wrong; it was just the wrong place and wrong time. You can have all the gear, and all the training, and take all the precautions, but there are still always dangers you can't control or anticipate. You could let that stop you from riding, and you could even hide in your basement for the rest of your life, but that doesn't seem like a good solution to me. A better answer is to prepare as best you can, and enjoy life as much as you can.

Ride safe!

-Don and Jackie

LOUD PIPES...

By Earl Edwards

Oh no...here we go again about the "loud pipes save lives" band wagon, get on board folks because it saves. Myself, I'm good... going to let that ship sail. I found this article that explains the principle of loud pipes and the bottom line is that the danger is still in front of us. What is that danger? Vehicles are still turning left in front of motorcyclist in 2019.

The "loud pipes save lives" argument is one I see or hear on almost on a monthly basis during the riding season. It's usually coming from some guy on a Harley or retro Triumph, though the sport bike guys are jumping on as of late.

Let's start with some basic physics and a little rationality. Your exhaust is pointed backwards and by the nature of you traveling forward, you're actually leaving the sound behind you as you move forward. If that concept is confusing, think of the sound of a fire truck passing you with its siren blaring. The siren is pointed forward because the purpose is to warn driver's the truck is approaching from behind. The next time you hear one coming, notice that it's louder when it's coming toward you than when it's going away.

Now apply that to motorcycle crashes. The one comprehensive, reliable study of motorcycle crashes in this country is the well-known "Hurt Report," which is now nearly 40 years old. Harry Hurt and his team found that 64.9 percent of multiple-vehicle motorcycle crashes were the fault of the car driver and "the typical accident in this category is portrayed by the automobile in traffic turning left into the path of the oncoming motorcycle." A lot has changed in 40 years, but one thing that I think we can all agree hasn't changed is that the car drivers are still pulling out in front of us. That means the bigger danger is still ahead, not behind, but most of the racket from loud pipes is just pissing off the people behind you, while doing very little to warn those in front of you.

Springs Wings Safety

LOUD PIPES...continued

By Earl Edwards

Your headlights and horn, however, are pointed ahead. If you really were so concerned with an upgrade that could save your life, you'd add aftermarket auxiliary lights and upgrade your horn. But then you'd run the risk of looking like a dork instead of sounding like a badass.

"Well, that explains why my windows get blown out every time you ride down the road."

Only protect the parts of your body you would like to use for the rest of your life!

Any questions contact
Earl@edwards_1500@hotmail.com
Thanks and ride safe.

Secondly, you know what does help people notice you? Wearing Hi-Viz gear, adding auxiliary lighting to your bike, and upgrading your horn are all great ways to make your presence known. Not only do they do a better job than an aftermarket exhaust, but they also cost a lot less. I should say that if by some chance you are wearing Hi-Viz gear, riding with auxiliary lights, using an upgraded horn and have a loud exhaust, I'm willing to give you a pass. Now you're allowed to say "loud pipes save lives," and disregard everything you just read. You're the unicorn of ATGATT. (All The Gear All The Time) I do not like the sound of aftermarket pipes because it just hurts my ears. So go ahead and buy your loud pipes. Just acknowledge it's for your own enjoyment, and not for some huge concern for safety.

The Pantry Breakfast Ride

Green Mountain Falls and Ride in the Mountains

We would just like to thank everyone who attended the Pantry Ride today. We had 16 Goldwings and 1 Buell Blast which accounted for 22 people then Charlie and Kirsten Daye with 2 of their friends met us at the Pantry. Twenty-six enjoyed the beautiful weather in a relaxing atmosphere of the outdoor Garden with Country Music played by Ted Newman. What a lovely way to spend eating breakfast with yummy Cinnamon Rolls and awesome friends to share it with.

& then...

Dan Ehmen and us went on a short but beautiful ride through Cripple Creek then back to 24 hwy via Hwy 1. We just realized we gotta ride more....as our behinds were telling us this..ha Hope they are in condition enough for Montrose ride next weekend!

Sue Hopper of Signs and Wonders, LLC will be here at Apex Sports on July 16th and 17th. Anyone interested in having some beautiful artwork added to your bike, car, RV or leathers contact her at 319 750-0814 to schedule a time with her during these two days. She can do pinstriping, graphics, by hand/airbrush and her talent is well known in the numerous Rallies she attends yearly. You can give her a pic and she can replicate it on anything! Even if you don't have any projects for her stop by Apex, check out her work and say hello.

Three bikers on three Goldwings braved the late Spring Colorado weather to Frisco. Maybe 30-45 seconds of rain on the way there and light rain all the way back from Fairplay to the Springs. Food was great and the town was really crowded.
